The Arts Are A Vital Part in the Curriculum

The editors of the 1962 edition of the Athenaeum have selected as the theme of the yearbook, the Lively Arts. The arts embellish our lives with beauty and develop within us greater understanding of life. In so doing, the arts add new dimensions to our lives. The truer meaning of life is more easily perceived through the arts.

Man's soul cries out for expression, and the arts are the most effective instruments to communicate man's most revealing and inspired thoughts. New insights are unveiled for our consideration. The mind hungers for truth and guidance. Talented and perceptive artists illuminate our minds and show us the new directions that mankind should consider.

The arts have the capacity to remind us of our noblest purposes and the innate dignity and significance of life.

Nature in all its glory and wonder vividly portrayed by word and by brush.

When life is bitter and disappointments unbearable, the arts lift our spirits and contribute to our resiliency. In making us aware of the essential values of life, the arts are a civilizing influence.

It is interesting to observe that all world civilizations are evaluated and measured by their artistic achievements.

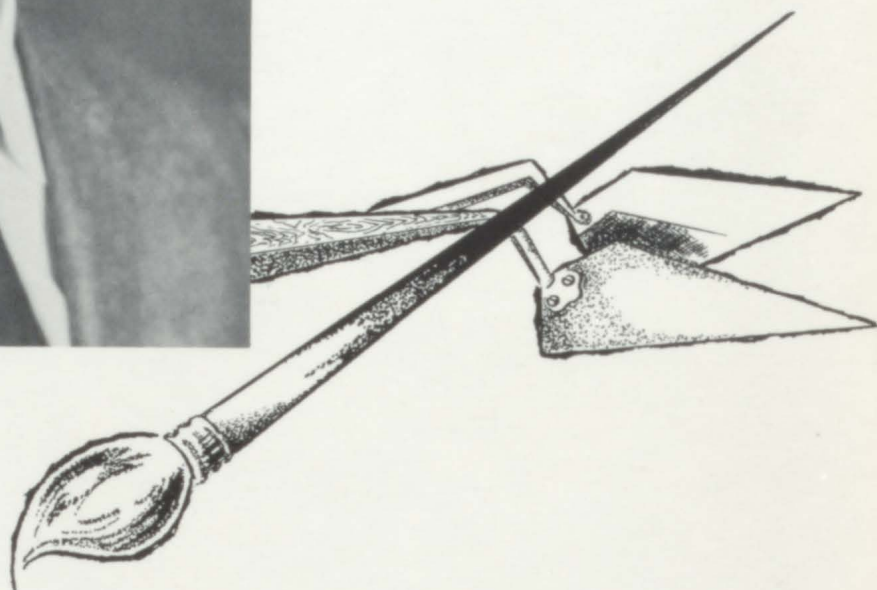

For these reasons, we sincerely believe that the lively arts are worthy of our study and respect.

Mr. Marvin Shlofmitz

Dedication

"The deed is everything, the glory, naught."

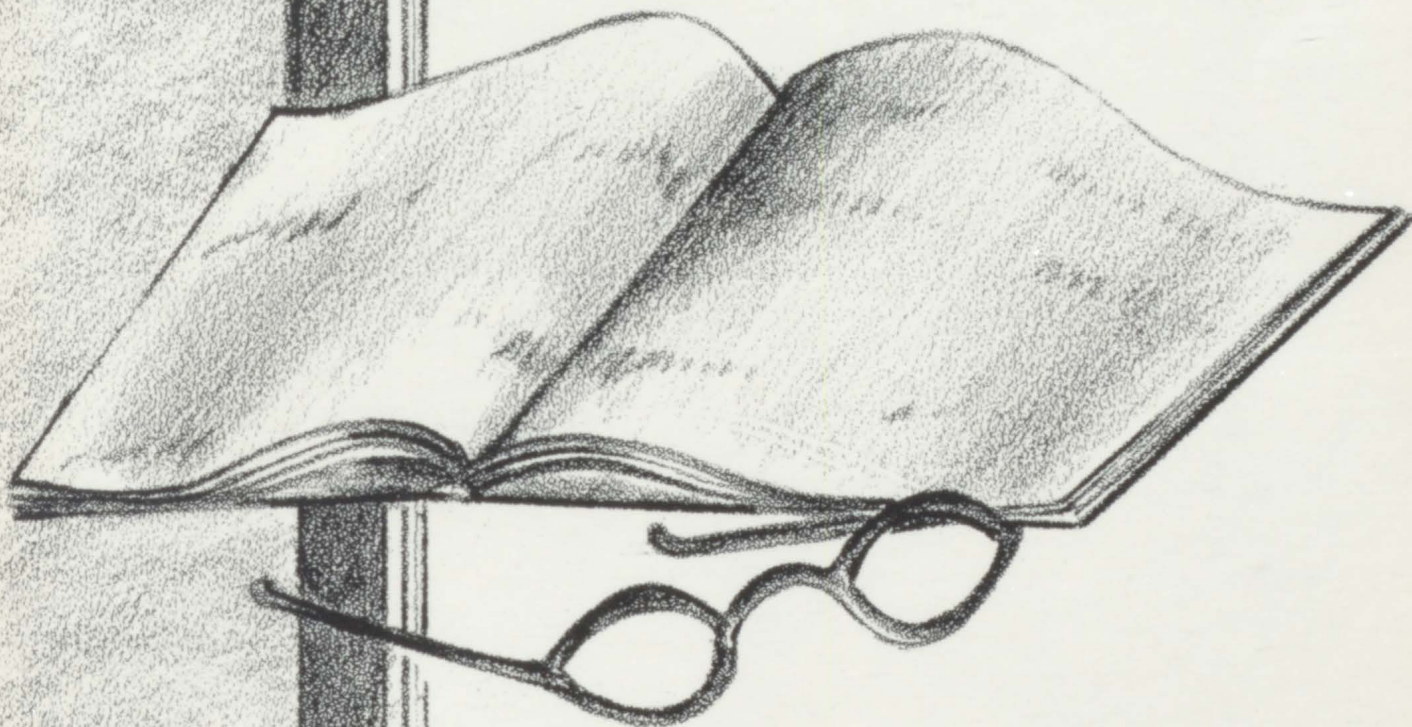

With enthusiastic acclaim, the Class of January 1962, is proud to dedicate this Yearbook to Mr. Marvin Shlofmitz, who has whipped and cajoled so many Yearbooks from precarious infancy to dignified debut. Keeping a journalistic secret from our alert adviser involved duplicity for which, we hope, we are now forgiven.

By all who come within the circle of his influence Mr. Shlofmitz is respected for his integrity and patient understanding. His witty sense of humor and practical outlook are successful aids in his efforts to guide his students toward the goals of scholarship, service, and spiritual values. He realizes, also, the teacher's responsibility to the community and cheerfully contributes much time and labor to Barringer's P.T.S.A.

We, the Graduating Class of January 1962, are grateful for the opportunity to say, "Thank you, Mr. Shlofmitz."

Welcome Aboard

Principal William R. Cain greets newly appointed vice principal, Mr. David A. Blank, to the affable Barringer family.

A QUEST FOR EXCELLENCE

Barringer High School has always held an unique position in this city's educational system. It is the third oldest high school in the nation, and it has maintained a tradition of academic excellence. The vast number of alumni throughout New Jersey regard Barringer with reverence and enthusiastic concern.

We are most fortunate to have as our administrators, Mr. William R. Cain, principal, and Mr. David E. Blank, the newly appointed vice principal, who are sincerely and earnestly endeavoring to emulate the effectiveness and accomplishments of such outstanding predecessors as Mr. William N. Barringer, Dr. Wayland E. Stearns, Dr. Roger B. Saylor, and Mr. Ephraim Eisenberg.

Many of the recently acclaimed innovations in education have long been part of the Barringer program of studies. This is the Barringer formula for academic success: discipline to develop a wholesome character and a proper learning atmosphere. Effective citizenship and a respect for American ideals are emphasized. Warmth and a personal awareness of the welfare of the individual student tend to inspire each student to do his best. Encouragement of a community-wide interest makes the school the focal point of the North Ward area. Insistence upon the high academic standards, common sense experimentation and innovations, and faculty teamwork have been invaluable in establishing the highest staff esprit de corps in the city system.

Barringer's learning program includes a dynamic and vigorous sports and activity program. Community resources and field trips are utilized to raise the intellectual sights of the students. The administration, faculty, and parents are always striving to have the City of Newark give its full support for first class education.

These are the reasons why the students and faculty are proud to be a part of the Big Blue family!

Many Serve Behind the Scenes

Dr. Edward Rattenne examines student, while nurse, Mrs. Linda Kocian looks on.

Teacher-clerk, Miss Fanny Bell, and secretary, Mrs. Eva Goldsmith, check time book.

School clerks, Mrs. Marie Jones and Miss Ann Rocco, tabulate school registers.

Cafeteria staff pose proudly with Thanksgiving turkeys.

Maintenance crew pause long enough in their work to have their picture taken.

Senior advisers, Mrs. Lillian Lehrman and Mr. Julius Kritzer, enthusiastically get into the spirit of the senior dance with a well executed meringue.

Guiding a senior class is a most difficult and worrisome task. There is no easy way. It is an experience that indeed tries the souls of class advisers. Problems have to be resolved in a fair and democratic manner, differences of opinion have to be harmonized, class morale has to be kept on the upbeat, money must be raised and expended wisely and judiciously, dances must be planned and held, graduation ceremonies rehearsed and at least a thousand details attended to. The responsibility is time consuming and most trying.

In our estimation, the only award that we can give to our most gracious and understanding advisers, Mrs. Lillian Lehrman and Mr. Julius Kritzer, are our highest respect and esteem.

With a Pat on the Back, and a Slap on the Wrist Senior Counselors Make Class Click!

We wish to thank our special advisers for contributing so generously and thoughtfully their "know-how," which insured the success of our class endeavors.

Mr. John Vogel's personal interest, attention, and wise counseling made it possible for fifty-five per cent of the senior class to apply for college admission. His time was always at the disposal of the students.

Mrs. Gertrude Kingsley with dry humor, infinite patience, and practical guidance led us by the hand through four happy years at Barringer High School. Whenever many of us became discouraged, confused, and dismayed, she inspired us to persist and conquer our difficulties. Mrs. Kingsley helped us to realize what we thought were impossible goals.

It takes toil and trouble and countless hours to produce a yearbook. We are most grateful.

When we have homeroom teachers such as Mrs. Frances Morgan and Mrs. Jetta Sedicino, we are sure to start the school day on the right foot. We deeply appreciate their personal concern for our success and happiness.

Big Blue Undefeated

Barringer High School Football Team 1961.

GUTS ALL THE WAY!

Playing heads up ball, the Barringer High School football team concluded a successful season in spite of tremendous odds and the adverse opinions of skeptical sports writers. Through sheer determination, discipline, drive and guts, the Big Blue turned defeat into victory.

After a disastrous defeat at the hands of Plainfield, 27-0, Barringer rallied, tightened its defensive play, and went on to defeat West Side, Dickinson, Central, and tied East Side and South Side. Aggressive and alert Orange Tornados pulled the rug out, 12-7. The Big Blue astounded a capacity crowd at the traditional Thanksgiving game by outplaying East Orange to a 7-7 tie.

Barringer's impenetrable defense in action.

Mr. Naporano cracks the whip before final practice.
